

Pro Natura Center Lucomagno

Pro Natura

Pro Natura

Pro Natura was created more than a century ago with the goal to establish the Swiss National Park. Today, it is the largest conservation association in Switzerland. It takes part in the preservation of almost 700 protected areas across the whole country, manages multiple centers such as Aletsch (VS) and ChampPittet (VD), and has more than 140 000 members and about 25 000 donors.

Pro Natura Ticino

Created in 1960, Pro Natura Ticino manages with passion and professionalism its major reserves: Muzzano Lake, Palude della Bedrin (Bedrina swamp) and Bolle di Magadino. Through education about the environment, communication, and political activity, Pro Natura Ticino acts to preserve the environment, the animals, and plants, and to promote a harmonious coexistence between people and nature.

Centro Pro Natura Lucomagno

For its fiftieth anniversary, Pro Natura Ticino acquired and renovated the Center Pro Natura Lucomagno at Acquacalda. A former hospice for travelers on the Lukmanier Pass, and formerly known as Ecological Centre UomoNatura, the current center fosters the relationship between humans and the environment and promotes sustainable tourism.

Food and accommodation

Restaurant

The restaurant, open in summer, offers a cuisine based on local products. The cozy dining room, with a stunning view of the mountains, accommodates up to 50 people and is also great for birthdays and private parties.

Accommodation

The hotel can accommodate up to 30 people in 6 double rooms with private bathrooms, 2 connecting rooms with a shared bathroom, and 2 dorms with bathrooms on the floor. The center's camping area, the highest in Ticino, offers 15 places for tents and minibuses (max. 5 meters), yurts and bungalows for unforgettable nights. Members of Pro Natura benefit with a 10% discount on accommodation either in the hotel or in the camping area (by presenting the card).

What we offer

A place immersed in nature

The Center is a privileged place for the study and contemplation of alpine nature and an ideal meeting place for those who want to detach from the hectic every day life. Guests can relax in the enchanting setting of the Lukmanier area or engage in activities offered by the center such as guided tours, conferences, and seminars.

Offers for schools

Pro Natura offers activities for groups of young people of different ages to bring them closer to the forest, the river, the ants, amphibians, flowering meadows, large predators, and nature in general with an approach that is sensory, playful, artistic, and scientific.

Seminar room

Cozy, bright, and surrounded by beautiful Alpine scenery, the seminar room of the center is suitable for business meetings, conferences, yoga classes, painting courses, study days and more.

Public transportation

You can take the Autolinee Bleniesi bus four times a day between June and October. The Pro Natura Center has its own stop: Acquacalda. There are also four daily buses from Oberalp-Lucomagno (with a change at Lukmanierpass). It is possible as well to walk to Acquacalda by following one of the many paths in Valle di Blenio. Particularly beautiful is the path from Lake Ritom and Piora through Passo dello Colombe or Passo del Sole.

By car

You can reach us in 45 minutes from Biasca, and in about one hour from Chur or Göschenen (via Oberalp-Lucomagno).

Become a member of Pro Natura

As a member of Pro Natura you benefit from a free entry to our conservation centers and you receive five issues of the national magazines of Pro Natura in French or German, and an additional supplement in Italian; if you live in Ticino, you also receive the magazine Pro Natura Ticino. The magazine for young people "Stran'becco" is sent quarterly to family members and youth.
